

ROMA

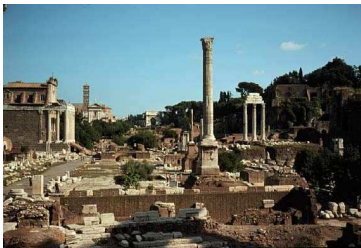

Rome is a chaotic, sensuous, and addictive place.

Travellers are often overwhelmed and enchanted at the same time by the exuberance and friendliness of the locals, by the weight of the history and by the sheer beauty of the city.

We Romans have a spiritual crisis whenever we must leave our eternal city.

However, tourists often find themselves in the throes of the wild, confusing circus, unable to absorb the many delights, adventures and wonders Rome generously offers to everyone brave enough to accept the challenge. (...)
